DAY'S BUSINESS MERELY NOMINAL

Fluctuations in Few Cases More Than Fractional.

CLOSING DULL AND HEAVY

Bank Statement, Though Favorable, Without Speculative Effect-Bond Market Rules Generally Firmer.

NEW YORK, April 30.—Today's stock market was excessively dull and almost nominal. So far as significance of the dealings or fluctuations is concerned the day might have been crossed out of the financial calendar. Heavy tone prevailed at the start, apparently due to little more than inanimation. Notwithstanding the extreme ease in money there was a disposition to view the prospect of further gold exports with some sentiment and despondency. Some discussion also turned upon the possible adverse developments in the court proceedings involving the Northern Securities are northern Securities. ties case next week. There is some dis-position on the part of traders to await the test of the investment market to be furnished next week by the large offering of low rate New York city bonds. In only a few instances were fluctuations more than fractional.

Delaware, Lackawanna and Western declined over 4 per cent, but the transactions were without significance. The publication of the bank statement had no speculative effect, although the statement was genarily favorable in view of the circumstances of heavy gold exports. The market closed duil and heavy, Government bonds unchanged. Other bonds firmer although Wabash "B" suffered a late reaction.
